

NOTES FOR GUIDANCE

FEES

GENERAL NOTES

Common Floor Space

Where applications are made which include dwellings and other non-residential floor space the fee is calculated by reference to the number of dwelling units and the addition of a sum related to the additional non-residential floor space created.

Where common floor space is included for both residential and non-residential use, the amount of non-residential common floor space is assessed as being in the same proportion as the residential and non-residential floor space created in the development.

Combined Application

Where applications are made relating to mixed category development (other than the erection of residential accommodation with other buildings) only the highest of the fees calculated under those categories is charged.

Floor area:

Floor space is the gross amount (all storeys, including basements and garaging) to be created by the development shown in the application. This is an external measurement, including the thickness of any external and internal walls

Any fraction of the stipulated unit of site area or floor space included in the application should be corrected upward to the 0.1 of a hectare or square metre respectively. For example 2.36 hectares would be rounded to 2.4 hectares and 60.4 square metres would be rounded to 61 square metres.
